the question

Reprehensible Conduct—Certain boys have for some time past been in the habit of loitering about the Central School premises, during recess and noon hours, and by their rude and unmanly conduct greatly annoying the teachers, and female pupils In some instances, the young scamps have demeaned themselves in a rude and vulgar manner using improper language, and making themselves very disagreeable with the girls. Such persistent conduct at length became so annoying, that the fair sex made complaint to the directors The gentlemen determined to put a stop to this reckless practice, caused a young fellow named Jones has been quite conspicuous in of hanging about the block and the girls to be arrested last Saturday was arrested on a charge of assaulting a young lady, and taken to the city jail He failed to furnish bonds for his appearance, and the was locked up, for trial yesterday morning The case up for trial yesterday morning Before the Young man entered a plea of guilty and the court imposed a fine of $5 and costs The fine was paid and the defendant discharged The case of this young man should serve as a warning to other boys who have been engaged in like practice, and cause them to mend their ways In this matter the authorities are determined to make no disorim ination Whoever is caught insulting the fair sex will be dealt with severely and the law to the full be, "Let no guilty hoodlum escape.

Fire at Hood River.—A special dispatch from Hood River, dated April 3d, to the Era says: "Donovan's mill, situated about half a mile from this place was burned to the ground yesterday morning about half past five o'clock Mr B F Walling discovered the fire about that time, but it was under too much headway to save the mill, which is a total loss A few thousand feet of lumber which was at the mill was also destroyed The mill was owned by Mr. Donovan, and operated by Captain Walling It is supposed the mill was set on fire by an incendiary Loss of mill $800 Walling loses everything."

Portland Directory.—This publication for the current year has been placed on our table by Mr A G. Walling, the publisher The work gives, in brief, a general directory of residents in the city, East Portland and Al bina, statistical matters and other information usually found in directories. It is a decided improvement on the last issue and will no doubt, meet with large sale A map of the city and drives accompanies each book

The Eastern States must have had a very hard winter in business matters by its spring comes on there is a great deal of hopefulness The New York Times of a recent date gives several columns giving the substance of interviews with prominent dealers in the leading branches of trade —twenty nine separate trades including all the leading branches of industry In every business enumerated with exception of the wine trade there has been a steady advance to the cash system and to extreme caution in trading The hard times have had the good effect of getting business upon a sound basis Speculation has practically ceased Buyers call for no more than they immediately want and pay for it cash down or on short time Nearly all trades there is an expectation that the Centennial will have a good effect in reviving business but these expectations are very moderate
